Brian Bennett specializes in providing strategic tenant representation and multi-market advisory services.

Brian Bennett is a senior vice president with Kidder Mathews, specializing in providing strategic tenant representation and multi-market advisory services to clients locally and nationwide. As an 22-year real estate veteran, Brian is highly regarded by peers and clients alike. His strengths include tactical and strategic corporate lease negotiations, building sale/purchase, built-to-suit, and land sale/purchase assignments.

Brian's strong work ethic, commitment to client service, and reputation for exceeding client expectations has been embraced by some of the most prestigious companies in the world, as they sought his expertise on tenant/user representation. He has also overseen large-scale development projects for both office and warehouse requirements, garnering valuable insight into the institutional owner's mindset. Brian has fully leveraged his experience to benefit corporate users of commercial and industrial space, effectively creating and implementing strategies that result in increased cost savings, greater flexibility, and reduced facility-related risk.
