Anthony Chun is an associate of investment sales at Kidder Mathews' Los Angeles office. He specializes in the acquisition and disposition of single-tenant and multi-tenant retail properties in the greater Los Angeles market.

Anthony joined Kidder Mathews in 2021 and partners with James Cho. Together they serve their clients as retail experts in the various submarkets throughout the Los Angeles MSA. Anthony believes that market expertise, thorough underwriting, relentless marketing, thoughtful negotiation, and honest communication are fundamental in the value he delivers to his clients.

Anthony was born and raised in Honolulu, Hawaii. Prior to making Los Angeles his home, Anthony resided in Seattle where he attended the University of Washington and earned a degree in applied mathematics.
