

ASHLEY HAGEN

Property Manager
Property Management Services

Ashley Hagen is a property manager based in Kidder Mathews' South Seattle office. Ashley's responsibilities include day-to-day operations, client and tenant relations, vendor management, preparation of annual budgets and reconciliations, and preparation of monthly management reports. Ashley began her career in commercial property management in 2008. She joined Kidder Mathews as a portfolio assistant in 2015, was promoted to operations manager in June 2019 and property manager in 2020. Ashley currently works on a portfolio of approximately 4.6 million square feet for a high-profile institutional client.

Prior to joining Kidder Mathews, Ashley was a real estate services administrator at CBRE where she worked on a portfolio of more than 400,000 square feet of commercial real estate. Ashley's responsibilities included assisting with the day-to-day operations, planning tenant events, performing building inspections, crafting and executing vendor contracts, reviewing lease documents, managing on-site security, and issuing requests for proposals.

Ashley completed a LEED recertification of a building in 2015 and has provided accounting support for capital projects. Her superior customer focus helps build strong, lasting relationships with clients. She utilizes her powerful communication and detail-oriented skills to help achieve her client's financial goals.
