

CRAIG LEVINE

Executive Vice President, Shareholder

Craig Levine is a shareholder and executive vice president at Kidder Mathews. Craig’s focus is tenant advisory services, including sale transactions to occupier groups. Craig began his career in 1990 and most recently was a principal and managing broker of Washington Partners, where he helped assemble one of the preeminent tenant advisory groups in the Puget Sound region. He is well-practiced at leveraging his 30 years of experience in various types of real estate transactions, including national accounts, where he has been the lead principal in directing multiple assignments across the country.
