Jordan Mostek joined the Valuation Advisory Services division of Kidder Mathews in November 2016.

Prior to joining the firm, he worked for several years as the after sales manager at IKEA where he developed progressive analytical, sales and marketing skills, and assisted in managing the nationwide launch of a major new product line which included extensive training to all employees across the country. His experience provides a strong background in research, writing, and analysis, as well as a breadth of knowledge surrounding customer and client relations. As a registered appraiser trainee, Jordan has worked on multiple appraisal projects throughout Oregon and Washington including retail, office, industrial, agricultural, and mixed-use properties.
