

FORREST SCHOLTES-DOWD

Multifamily Specialist

Forrest Scholtes-Dowd is a multifamily specialist representing both buyers and sellers throughout Northern California, with focus in the greater Sacramento area. He specializes in market analysis, underwriting and marketing campaigns as a team member with Sean O'Brian who is the leading multifamily specialist in Northern California for Kidder Mathews.

While getting his BS in marketing from Portland State University, he utilized his education to grow his life coaching business as a fitness professional, serving his clientele in a holistic approach over the course of six years. Forrest's client service approach is team based, with diverse strong network expertise to serve the individual's needs.

Forrest has a strong connection to family, community, and health. He believes building positive, long term relationships is the key for success in any business. Being born and raised in the Sacramento area, Forrest provides solid cohesion between community and business development. Forrest's fundamentals come down to hard work, dedication, and team building within the relationships of the Sacramento populace.
