

MAGGIE VERGER

Vice President

Maggie is a vice president at Kidder Mathews, specializing in the sale of retail investment properties throughout Washington, ranging from single tenant net leased assets to larger multi-tenant shopping centers. She is a strategic deal maker with expertise in sale-leaseback transactions, 1031 exchanges, and underwriting/property valuations.

Before joining Kidder Mathews, Maggie was a broker at a privately held investment company based in Seattle. Prior to breaking into commercial real estate, she worked at Ernst & Young as an accountant, where she gained a strong foundation that has helped her excel in retail investment sales.

Paired with her previous work in accounting, Maggie's wide industry experience allows her to provide clients with valuable direction, a professionally managed process, and effective results.

EDUCATION

BBA in Accounting & Finance from University of Washington
