Haili Wu is a Associate Vice President at Kidder Mathews with a primary focus on multifamily and commercial properties in San Francisco County and throughout the peninsula in San Mateo County.

Haili Wu is an investment specialist with a trilingual background (Cantonese, Mandarin, and English), who specializes in multifamily and commercial properties in San Francisco County and throughout the peninsula in San Mateo County. Haili is dedicated to achieving wealth for her clients through scenario planning and strategic forecasting, acquisition, and disposition.

Haili graduated from Menlo College, a private college focused on business education in Atherton, California. She completed her Bachelor of Science degree in business finance in three years. During her college career, she had the opportunity to attend two private business-focused institutions, Anglo-American University in the Czech Republic and the University of Auckland in New Zealand. With experience living and studying abroad, Haili gained a deep understanding and business insights from around the globe.

In her professional career, Haili possesses innate strong work ethics and commitment to her clients, with a passion for real estate investment. Haili thrives on bringing success to herself and those she works with. She is also an active member of the Commercial Real Estate Women (CREW) Network, where she continues to develop skills, share expertise, and give support within the community.

Outside of work, you can find her at the kickboxing training gym.
