Wynne Zhang is an associate broker specializing in asset acquisitions, landlord/tenant representation and strategic investments in the Bay Area.

Wynne leverages her background in finance and business operations to drive value for her clients. Her passion for problem-solving, strategic negotiations, and client advocacy ensures that she delivers results-driven solutions tailored to her clients' goals.

Prior to joining Kidder Mathews, Wynne worked in private lending, specializing in hard money financing for real estate investors. Her expertise in financial structuring, deal analysis, and market positioning gives her clients a competitive edge when evaluating opportunities. Additionally, her experience as a business owner offers her firsthand insight into location strategy, commercial lease negotiations, and operational efficiencies.

She is fluent in Mandarin Chinese and English, allowing her to serve a diverse client base, including international investors.

EDUCATION

Wynne graduated from UC Davis, where she earned a bachelor's degree in international relations.
